Torrance High Students In War Chest Drive

By EUNICE ABRAMSON
Torrance High school is entering into the spirit of the War Chest drive. This year there is more interest in it than ever before as the whole school, including the faculty, is cooperating with the Torrance War Chest Drive, a branch of the L. A. Area Drive. Up to this time both students and faculty have worked through the L. A. drives because of the fact that Torrance High belongs to the L. A. city system and the system had a definite goal to attain. The teachers of Torrance High are very happy to be able to contribute through the Torrance Drive.

The drive was launched last Thursday morning, Nov. 2, at an "aud" call, where the main functions of the war chest were presented by Betty Fagen, Virginia Fletcher, Alfred Pabst and Harold Perry, the principal of the high school.

For the drive the school has been divided into two groups, the junior high, consisting of the 7th, 8th and 9th grades, and the senior high, consisting of the 10th, 11th and 12th grades. These groups are competing to see which will have the most money per day in its own wishing well in the Science building patio.

In connection with the drive, high school students have been going to the elementary schools which will contribute through the Torrance drive and also to the various service clubs of the city. Bert Smith, the student body president, and Lola Cobb went to Torrance Elementary on Thursday, Nov. 2, and spoke to the students on the importance of the War Chest. Speaking about the same thing at Carson Street school and Fern Avenue school on Nov. 7 and Nov. 1 respectively were Lola Cobb and Wilma Eynon and Marguerite McGarry.

Bert Smith spoke at the Rotary club on Thursday, Nov. 2, and Lamar Watson and William Vanderlip were guest speakers of the Kiwanis club on Monday, Nov. 6.

Rev. Mills Is Conducting Services Here

Seven cooperating Torrance churches began this week a series of character building religious services for the children of the Torrance community.

Prof. and Mrs. E. Everett C. Mills of Los Angeles are conducting the services each afternoon from 3 until 4 o'clock in the auditorium of Central Evangelical Community church, Marcelina at Arlington.

Mr. and Mrs. Mills are nationally known for their work among children, having instructed more than one-half a million boys and girls of elementary and high school age. They perform tricks, magic and visual religious instructions of an intriguing nature. Free gifts of a most unusual and worthwhile nature are given to all who attend. Hundreds of children have been attending the local meeting, which opened Tuesday. The meetings will continue today and Friday.

Mills, who is also an accomplished musician and singer, is also assisting in the Evangelistic Mission that is being held nightly in the Central Evangelical church. Rev. Byron E. Chapman of Porterville is the visiting evangelist.

Sprott Operates Columbia Steel Cafeteria

Management of the Columbia Steel Co. plant cafeteria has been taken over by the Sprott Industrial Feeding Co.

An adjacent building has been erected to house a canteen selling sandwiches, coffee, soup, ice cream, candy, chewing gum and pastries. The cafeteria will be open at regular mealtime hours while the canteen plans to remain open as business warrants. The Sprott company is well known in the industrial feeding field, their business built on sound feeding policies, the company announced. Their large quantity buying gives them the opportunity of procuring the best of foods and also selling at a minimum price. Another policy adhered to by the Sprott company is employing, when possible, wives, mothers, sisters, etc., of regular plant employees. They rightly feel that members of the plant worker's family will be greatly interested in his having nutritious, well balanced meals.

Among some of the plants now being served by the Sprott company are: The Columbia Steel Co. Pittsburg Works; North American Aviation; Bethlehem Steel, San Francisco; Lockheed-Navy; Marinship, San Mateo, Calif.; Geneva Steel Co., Provo, Utah; Bendix Aviation; Western Pipe and Steel, San Francisco, and numerous others. The Sprott company maintains warehouses in both San Francisco and Los Angeles. They own and operate a large cattle ranch near Red Bluff, Calif. This and the fact that they buy much of their canned goods and groceries direct from the packer contribute toward making it possible for plant employees to buy their meals at a reduced cost.

TELEPHONE CO. CONTRIBUTES $34,000 TO FUND

Making its annual War Chest contribution, the Southern California Telephone Company has contributed $34,000 to the drive for the Los Angeles War Chest area, which embraces Torrance.

The manager reported that the donation to the Los Angeles area fund is part of the total of $135,000 pledged by the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company and subsidiaries, including the Southern California Telephone Company, to the campaign in its operating area. Employees, who have always contributed liberally, are contributing separately to the local fund and to drives in other exchanges, the manager said.

Torrance Gets $1,382.50 In Liquor Funds

California cities and counties are about to share $2,311,923.87, representing half of the alcoholic beverage license fees for the first six months of 1944, according to an announcement made by the State Board of Equalization.

Of this sum, shared on the basis of the location of licensed premises, $657,771.17 will be distributed in Los Angeles county, where $1,382.50 will go to Torrance and $68,079.50 will go to the unincorporated area in the county.

Current allocations will bring the cities' and counties' share of state license fees to $27,950,859.08 since repeal of prohibition in 1933. This revenue has been collected and distributed by the State Board of Equalization at no cost to local governments. After deducting administrative expense, the remainder of the fee goes to the State General Fund.
